Mildura School of Driving

How many driving lessons do I need?

Every student comes to us with a unique set of skills and experience. How many lessons you actually take depends on many factors, including the frequency of your lessons. You will find lots of people willing to offer advice on the subject of how many lessons it takes to learn to drive, but the truth is – it is dependent on the individual. The reality is that people learn in different circumstances and at different rates; you are an individual and will learn at your own pace. There is no reliable formula for working out how long it will take to learn to drive; the number of lessons needed varies from person to person. People will offer advice and guidance in good faith, perhaps based on their own experience of learning to drive...'You only need a few lessons to learn the test route 'or' I passed after 10 lessons – nobody needs more than that' When you hear things like this it can leave you feeling a bit inadequate if you require additional lessons. Remember –everyone is different, everyone has different learning styles and every takes the time THEY need.
